Library Institute at Danbury. A library institute at Danbury.

A library institute will be conducted from July 11 to July 22 by the Connecticut public library committee at the state normal school at Danbury. The morning session will be given to instruction in the actual work of small libraries and the afternoon sessions to lectures on subjects of general interest. A special course of instruction will be arranged for the benefit of those who attended the institute last year and desire to continue the work this year.

BILL CHANGES TODAY AT AUDI-TORIUM.

Following the first class show offered the first three days of this week at the Abditorium will be another of equal satisfaction, opening today for the remainder of the week. Harry Morse & Co. in Uncle Seth and the Hoodoo, which has been making such a decided bit. Will remain for the rest of the veek and continue to raise many a learty laugh. The Straub Sisters, first hine of the new acts for the last haif if the week, do a very neat novelty number in which they introduce the bas and follies of girls way back in he sixties and those of 1910 while inga appropriate songs. Miss Edith traub is a very clever toe dancer and ses this graceful art to advantage, we smart appearing boys are Kessier Dunn, who do a comedy singing and dancing act. They have good bices and can show up many new and original steps in the dancing line. I dainty singing comedienne, Ollie La tonde, will hold up her end in balancing this well selected bill. The Makhag of the Walk-Over Shoe motion pictures is attracting much attention and a very interesting reel. The other notion pictures are fully as good.

BREED THEATER. The Common Enemy, Thrilling Dra-matic Feature.

In the great feature picture at the Breed theater for the balance of the week are to be seen some of the most exciting situations ever photographed and as thrilling a story as was ever thrown upon the screen. It is a powerful story of the days of 1860-1864, and deals with those unlawful warrarers known as guerillas. A southern family gathering is interrupted by this fearful band and their behavior in the bouse is such that the old negro mammy has to come to the rescue. A sebouse is such that the old negro mammy has to come to the rescue. A secret message is despatched to the father, which is Captain Morgan, the anxious family awaiting with abated breath the result. The child messenger is wounded by a ploket before her identity is known, but the message is delivered and Morgan arrives at the old home and commands, surrounds and annihilates the guerillas. This picture is a beauty from a scenic tandpoint and the story is told in a logical manner and interests the spectators from start to finish.

A comedy of the oil fields of California is entitled A Rich Revenge, and is played by the Biograph company and is fully up to their standard of excellence and mirth.

The lack of good roads from the interior, and, in former times, intertribal wars which closed the native paths, has prevented Léberian ivory from retching the Liberian coast, and generally disturbed business in the back country. Under these conditions great trade routes were developed, which diverted all Liberian trade to the adjoining British colony of Sierra Leone and the French possessions.

SEEK AND YE SHALL FIND.

Where are the great whom theu wouldst wish to praise thee? Where are the pure, whom thou wouldst choose to love thee? Where are the brave to stand supreme above thee? Whose high commands would cheer, whose chidings raise thee? Seek, seeker, in thyself, submit to find in the stones bread, and life in the blank mind.

—Arthur Hugh Clough.

THE PAST.

Mourn for the Past!
The Past that was so pleasant ence,
so bright;
The Dawn, the Noon, before we felt the Eve
That brings the Night.

The temple falls,
And the bird buildeth in the ruined tower;
And we, who once were strong, are crumbling fast,
Power by Power!
